New York, June 11.—Harper's Weekly to-day publishes the following editorial, thus setting at 19st all anxiesty in the minds of politicians throughout the country. It will not support Blaine:

"The nomination of Mr. Blaine does not change the view of its inexpediency that we have freely aspressed. Harper's Weekly has said nothing spon this subject without careful consideration, and the fact of the nomination does not change its conviction that the Republican campaign, with the candidated of Mr. Blaine, must be a prolonged explanation and defense. The campaign of this year will be one fin which the personality of candidates will be more vigorously sorutinized than ever, because there is no great supprene hane of national peril or national policy which will engross the attention of the people, and this scrutiny invites defeat. Under such etc. The man was aprarently about 25 years for a vote of confidence, it will naturally be judged by the representative whom it deliberately selects. To him the country will turn to see what the party honors and what qualifications it holds to be essential for the highest crust. It would, we think, have been equivalent to an election—a candidate who would have aroused all the old Republican cuttualisation, with the present feeling of the country, would have been equivalent to an election—a candidate who would have aroused all the old Republican cuttualisation freed from all taint of slavery, it is strongest when its young and, ardent workers, the real workers of the party, teel that it is still essentially a progressive and aggressive reform organization, and when they know that it is led in a Presidential year by a candidate who is not such a representative of political progress and reform. The fact that a candidate is selected who is not such a representative of political progress and reform. The fact that a candidate is selected who is not such a representative properly alarms them and shakes their faith in the party. It is true that the Repub that the Republican party is always strong in the weakness of the Democratic opposition; but that is a negative strength. The Democratic party really

To THIS STATEMENT

It was his reply that less is to be expected from the Democrats. Those who have aroused the deep and general protest of the Republican conscience must ear the responsibility of the result. Fidelity to Republican principle requires indifference to present Republican success, and Harper's Weekly, which more than once has not hesitated in the interest of public morality and of party purification to oppose other Republican nominations, cannot sustain the significant one against which it has so earnestly protested, and which is a practical abdication of Republican character and purpose. The sad and kindly face of Lincoln's portrait, which hung in the rindly face of Lincoln's portrait, which hung in the hall, seems to watch the proceedings of the conven-tion with an air of earnest solicitude and appre-hension, and it had disappeared from its place before the nomination was made.

THE HOTEL THIEF.

Lucky Capture of Charles McLaughlin-His

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

New York, June 11.—Detective James N. Price of the Twenty-ninth Precinct and his brother "Sem" went to the Rossmore Hotel, on Monday evening. for the purpose of watching a guest registered as C. J. Lambert. They were assigned rooms Nos. 201 and 202, Lambert having been put in No. 203. Price rigged up a table so that he could watch Lamber through the transom window of one of the doors The rooms were double rooms, and Sam on a step ladder watched through the other transom window. All was quiet until about 1 o'clock, when Lambert's door opened without a creak, and after a moment's itering he darted into the corridor as swiftly sly as a cat and tried several doors. He suddenly darted back to his room again, when the night watchman came up stairs. An hour later ambert sallied forth again, and he apparently decided to enter room No. 208, where a guest slept

Lambert sallied forth again, and he apparently decided to enter room No. 208, where a guest slept who had several hundred dolars and valuable pewelry in his possession. While Lambert was working at the lock with a pair of "nippers" Sam was so intent on watching the thief that he got his head-so far out of the transom window that he could hardly get it back. Lambert was again seared by the watchman, but he retired for only twenty minutes, and then he attempted to enter the room by the bath room window. He was again startled and in retreating to his room narrowly missed stepping on Price's face who had been watching, lying on the floor. Lambert was out again at 3 o'clock, but was frightened as before, and when he went back to his room Price decided that he had enough evidence against him. Going to his room he knocked and was admitted. He salued Lambert with "Hello. No funny work now. I am an officer." Lambert was perfectly cool. "Glad to see you," he replied, "come in and make yourself at home. Can't we send for a drink?" Frice said

New York, June 11.—A protracted meeting of holesale news dealers was held at No. 8 Chatham reet last night. The session continued until after idnight. About twenty of the principal retail dealers were also present, and a general interchange of views was indulged in. The whole ground of the dealers were also present, and a general interchange of views was indulged in. The whole ground of the news dealers grievances was thoroughly gone over. The greater portion of the time was absorbed in executive session, and numerous meetings of the Council and of the various associations were decided upon. The action of the Herald in cutting off the supply of the wholesale dealers was denounced. A dealer said: "There are only a few of the great dealers that can be found on those stands, and they can be dealt with. We must assure the publishers of those papers that they shall lose nothing by citting off the Herald. We can do it, and must do it that wast on the publishers of the various papers with that in view. Six of the wholesale dealers presented voluntarily the figures of the sales made by them since the Herald's new departure. In each instance the figures show an increase in the number of Woalds and Tribunes over the number sold on Monday. The increase was: Woalds 3,885, Tribunes 504. One dealer had increased his order for Woalds by 1,340, while a majority present dealer that they were short of Woalds long before noon and could not obtain a new supply. Previous to adjournment the council of the retail dealers associations pledged themselves to stand by the wholesalers in their fight with the Herald, although it should cost them half their customers.

They are covered almost completely with what on first sight appearance to be a sort of fungus, but which on a closer examination proves to be a living insect. The animals have a peculiar attraction for bees which swarm around them incessantly. The pests have not visited this section before in years. The trees upon which they fasten themselves, die in a few days.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—The National Republican has an editorial attack on the Hemnepic canal to-day, saying the subject should be thoroughly studied before action is taken and calling attention.

The discussion of the Heanepin Canal section of the river and harbor bill in the House to-day is at-tracting a great deal of attention. A hot fight is being made against it by Jones of Wisconsin and others, Messrs. Stone, Carman and others speaking in its favor. All the methods known to expert legis-lators are being used to defeat it. The chances are uccessfully predict the result.

The friends of the Hennepin Canal are much encouraged by the events of the past few minutes. A point of order had been made against the canal the decision was sustained by a vote of 103 to 63.

This shows very strong feeling in favor of the canal and its friends believe it will pass. The House refused to strike out the Hennepin Canal section by a vote of 94 to 92.

The sub-committee appointed to investigate the land leases expects to begin its work to-morrow. Subpoenss have been issued for the attendance of Phillips and Indian Agents Miles and Hunt, requiring them to be present at the first session of the com-mittee to-morrow, and to testify in regard to subjects for which the investigation had been or-dered. There is an effort being made to induce the committee to sit with closed doors, and thus far the committee seems disposed to do so. This will be the easiest possible manner in which to strengthen the charges that the investigation is to be a mere farce in the interest of the present holders of leases.

THE SENATE.

Senator Voorhees offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information concerning the supplies of beef to Indians.

Senator Sherman said an inquiry of this character carried an implication of fraud on the part of Government officers. If the Senator from Indiana (Voorhees would say that he believed wrong had been done, he (Sherman) would favor the resolution, otherwise he would moye its reference to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Senator Voorhees replied that he had not the slightest suspicion of official impropriety in the matter, and the Senator from Ohio (Sherman) had constituted himself the defender of the department before an accusation had been made. His object was to have the inquiry made whether supplies had been procured from trespassing grasiers, and opposed the reference to the Committee on Indian Affairs, because the resolutions relating to grazing in the Indian Territory, long since reference to the Lommittee on Indian Affairs, because the resolutions relating to grazing in the Indian Territory, long since referred to that committee, had not been heard from.

The Senate bill passed extending the time to commence laying an Atlantic cable.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the river and harbor bill.

Mr. Maybury called the attention of the committee to the necessity of prosecuting to completion the work of improving the Detroit River, but was unsuccessful in his effort to have the appropriation for that river increased from $100,000 to $227,000.

When the clause in the river and harbor bill providing for the construction of the Hennepin Canal was reached in the House various points of order were raised against it, for the purpose of eliminating it from the bill, but the Speaker overruled them all.

A TRIFLE UNEASY,
as he plied the reporters to keep the details of the evidence from the newspapers. The sister was a tall, comely brunette, very plainly dressed in a closefitting black dress, and gave her testimony with an air that was liable to impress the hearer not only with the truth of her story, but that she had received an education far above that which her plain dress and demeanor indicated.
The first witness called to-day was Mr. Heetfield, the respondent in this case, whose testimony went mainly to show that the statements of other witnesses as to his temper and disposition were false. He testified regarding his disposition towards his wife and child as follows:
"My temper has never been high. My wife knows that I have never shown any marked degree of temper towards her. She is sitting there, and can tesify to the same thing. I have never whipped my child—never had any occasion to do it. My highest salary was $29 per month, besides my commissions, which sometimes amounted to $150 per month, and nearly all of this I gave to my wife."
Here followed a discussion as to whether Mr. Heetfield had paid his board bills, which Judge Horner cut short by stating that it cut no figure in this case, and he knew plenty of people who paid their board bills, and whom he would not believe on oath.

Judge Horner has a great deal of patience with a divorce suit as a general thing, and will listen patiently by the hour to long, strung-out tales of misery and unhappiness in the family circle. But his patience has its limits, and was brought to a climax this morning during the hearing of the Heetfield habeas corpus case. This case has been panding before him now since last term and the surface of criminal libed. A short time ago the per published a story about a newly married couples, claiming that their first born was of dark complete four and had kinky hair. The story was winked to consider the proper publishers of the paper paying $200. The action of the Grand Jury was unexpected, as it was thought the paper paying the minated the procedurion.

MUNICIPAL POTPOURRI.

"But has the company the right to take possession of those public streets at all?"

"Cortainly it has, on conditions which were prescribed by an ordinance passed some time ago. On the acquirement of certain property therein specified, they are entitled to lay tracks on Cerre street, and to close up Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets. The ordinance provides, however, that the City Counselor's certificate that such property has been acquired by the company must be filled with the City Begister, before they can take possession of any of the streets or parts of streets; therefore, it is fair to presume that the requisite property has been acquired and Mr. Bell's certificate setting forth that any property east of Tayon avenue had been acquired and fairer examination he announced that he had not issued any certificate setting forth that any property east of Tayon avenue had been acquired by the company. Therefore, if any of the streets mentioned are appropriated, it has been done despite the fact that none of the conditions named by ordinance have been compiled with. Further investigation discovered the fact that the ordinance was passed almost a year ago, and that it prescribed that whenever the railroad company shall have acquired all the property on the south side of Cerre street for a depth of Riff feet from the street line, it may occupy Cerre, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets for its purposes, provided such property is acquired within one year of the passage of such ordinance. Over a year has already elapsed, and the company has failed to protect our streets, it has gone on with its work just as though the condition had been compiled with. As the right to purchase the property and expired with the year, the company applied to the Assembly for an ordinance extending the time, which ordinance has been passed. There is nothing in the ordinance, however, sanctioning the uniawful course thus far pursued, and if the city officers be so disposed, they can proceed against the company by criminal action, and not only subje

The Elevated Road.

The announcement in yesterday's Post-Disparon that the Elevated Road Company has determined to run north on Beaumont street instead of Jefferson avenue precipitated a multitude of Beaumont street protestants on the Mayor's office this morning. The Jefferson avenue people who asked for a hearing yesterday failed to appear to-day at all. As a matter of fact the tordinance does not locate the road on either of these streets, hence remonstrances on that score are irrelevant. They will be in order in October when the amended bill is up for passage, which will, probably, specify the particular streets to be followed. As this seems to be the only character of objection that the public has to offer to the bill it is probable it will be signed.

man OCHILTREE of Texas yesterday led in striking out from the River and Harbor bill the appropriation for Galveston Harbor. This was done on the remarkable statement that the army engineers had wasted twelve years and a million and a half of dollars in their attempts to improve the harbor and had not made a harbor vet.

This is a very remarkable state nade in Congress by a representative of the district interested in the improvement. It is a serious reflection on the efficiency of the hydraulic engineering of the engineer corps of the United States Army. We do not propose to pass an opinion on the present case, but it is history that the army engineers pottered and trifled with the mouth of the Mississippi for thirty years, at a cost of more than a million dollars without permanently deepening the channel an inch.

Of course Mr. OCHILTREE'S motion means that Galveston is in favor of giving the contract for the improvement to Mr. Eads, and is a signal success in the effort which has been made to substitute private contract for army work. FILLEY IN INDIANA.

The news that Mr. FILLEY is to manage th campaign in Indiana needs no confirmation The cause and the hour point to him as the right man in the right place managing s Blaine campaign in Indiana. There is a nat ural fitness in intrusting the State which Don-SEY carried for GARFIELD and ARTHUR to FIL-LEY to carry for BLAINE and LOGAN.

MR. FILLEY is an able manager. His expe rience is vast, his energy is untiring, his reources inexhaustible. He is a veteran cam paigner and Indiana is to him a familiar battle ground. His personal acquaintance is as wide and accurate as his knowledge of the methods and tactics required by the situation. He has every incentive of ambition and inclination to nerve him for the task and, when he begins, he may be relied to work it with "no nonsense."

It is simply a question of fraud, bribery and corruption; of bleeding office-holders and officeekers, plutocrats, contractors, and all the herd that gorge and fatten in the rottenness of Republican politics, and spending the money among the bummers and heelers who have elped to make the Presidential elections a national disgrace. In this school of politics MR. FILLEY has graduated. He was postmaster in this city and he levied assessments on the clerks and carriers. He groomed the good Dr. Mc-LEAN for his Congressional race and the $6,000 which he so deftly administered where it would do most good was as effective on the body politic as the Doctor's pills and ointments are on the body corporal. Let there be no mistake about the situation. Less than four years ago, after a campaign disgraced by all the tricks and arts of corruption. the man who is now President openly complimented FILLEY's predecessor on having car ried Indiana "by the use of soap." FILLEY knows what is expected of him, and he can be relied on to fulfill the expectations of those who employ him.

The result of the "Steve" Elvins of 1884. In many traits that bring statesmen of their caliber to the surface two 'Steves' are not dissimilar. Both flourished at their campaign will not be affected in any way by any efforts in this direction.

And on the other hand the prolongation of arter from Arkansas, and the other "Steve," as Senator from Arkansas, and the other "Steve," as Delevate from New Mexico, were the most active lieutengate from New Mexico, were the most active lieu ants of the lobby of those days of which Sam Ward was King. Both were close friends of Mr. Speaker Blaker and up till recently. way bonds, Pacific Mail jobbery. Both were close friends of Mr. Speaker Blaine, and up till recently both enjoyed his confidence. The Star Route busi-ness proved too much for the Flumed Knight, and one of the Stephens lost his favor. But this only served to strengthen his friendship for the other, and now the latter is strong in his place as Captain of the Knight's gallant retainers. He is a bold Cap-tain rich not the commission of the strength and the strength of the str together. On the one side spoils of the lobby, and on the other "the influence of a great name," mingled and materialized in the shape of coal lands and railways in West Virginia now held in common.
The two are likewise heavy owners in a Kanawha Valley improvement scheme, which involves digging a canal to the grain fields and a railway to the timber lands of the Alleghanies, the establishment of sawmills, etc., etc. To these influences the exultants refer when they claim that West Virginia is "sure for Blaine." If the later Steve becomes chairman of the National Committee we may expect a sharp fight in West Virginia and a deluge of "soap" from Stephen's capacious lye vat that will cover the very Blue Ridge with foam.

How to Save the Party, Col. A. K. McClure's Last Chicago Letter to His Paper.
While the action of the coming Democratic National Convention may make the defeat of Blaine assured or impossible, his nomination will none the less date the organized disorganization of the Reless date the organized disorganization of the Republican party. It is needless to inquire whether Blaine should have been nominated or not, and equally needless to inquire whether the fullness of time has come for Republican disintegration. The irrevocable fact is presented to us that Blaine is the candidate; that organized Republican disorganization is irresistibly shaping itself, and that the discipline that gave victory to the party in six consecutive Presidential struggles is now as a chain of smoke or a rope of sand to hold wayward party elements longer in unity.

The convention that has just adjourned proved to every intelligent and unbiased observer that the Re-publican party is rapidly dying at the top, where the Democratic party has been dead for a quarter of a century. I saw it at the first National Convention in 1856; I have seen it in every national council since then, and participated in an humble way in The work of organized Republican disint will go on only the more vigorously and res ne Democrats shall remove all obstacles to Biaine's lection, while a reorganized Republican party fo are may be born of his defeat.

m the Boston Herald (Ind. Rep.) Believing that Mr. Blaine would be a bad and President, we hope to see him defeated. ing him to be a weak candidate, we expect to see him defeated. His zealots say he can be elected without the vote of New York. They will have a chance to prove it. Perhaps they think he can be elected without the help of Massachusetts. It is not improbable that they may have a chance to test this also. If the Democrats rise to the occasion, nominate Gov. Cleveland, and give him an honest support in his own State, we believe they will carry support in his own State, we ceneve they will carry the election. The Republican party has been in power for a long time. More frequent changes in the control of the government were contemplated by the framers of our system, and would be healthby the framers of our system, and would be meaning ful under it. Dynasties are unrepublican and un-democratic. The government of the people, by the people is safe in the hands of any majority of the people. Now may be a good time for the Repubpeople. Now may be a good time for the Republican party to step down and out. The National Convention has acted as if it thought so.

They portend deserved disaster and defeat to the Republican party and a revolution in the na-tional administration. Washinstron, June 11.—Even the arrival of summer and the hot wave of the past few days has not driven all of society out of Washington. That portion left here finds itself doing double duty, out-side and in, and is really quite busy. There are some weddings and some excursions and many pleasant outdoor occupations of a social nature which divide the time and keep those busy whose duties require them to remain here. The families of most of the Congressmen continue here, as well as those of the cabinet officers and others whose until it now embraces in its list of members the names of all the amateurs in the city of any note. Yesterday occurred the most interesting social event of the week in the marriage of Lieut. Fox of the Navy to Miss Nellie Beckwith, a young lady prominent in social circles here. Lieut. Fox is a very prominent young naval officer and grandson of the late Commodore Morris, and has many warm friends in the Army and Navy circles and in society generally. The wedding, which jook place at St. John's, the President's church, was largely attended by people of social standing. On the same evening occurred the marriage of Mr. Edwin L. pedestrianism. This joke made the Saccarappa sculler laugh. Ross at this point continued his conversation and said: "Say, Gaisel and Amateur Murphy had a race yesterday around that black buoy—three quarters of a mile from here—and GAISEL HEAT HIM EASY."

"Yes, "interjected Fred, "the worst professional beals the best amateur. The only competitor I'll have this year will be Gaisel, and the fight will be for isst place."

"How about the double soull race between McKay and mate and Fred and yourself?" was asked.

Ste 2. At Washington the Toledos beat the Washingtons by a score of 7 to 2. At Baltimore the result was Baltimore 13 to Indianapolis 6. The Cincinnatis beat the Brooklyns at Brooklyn by a score of 8 to 6. At New York the Mets and Louisvilles had another fine game, the Mets winning by a score of 8 to 7.

In the League series the Providence and Bostons had another magnificent game, the Bostons winning by a score of 3 to 1. It was a great pitching game, Whitney and Sweeney doing magnificent work. The Bostons made but three hits, the Providence four, but the Bostons outfielded their opponents. At Philadelphia the New Yorks gave the Philadelphias a terrible laying out, winning by a score of 8 to 0.

At Chicago the Chicagos beat the Clevelands by a score of 8 to 0.

In the Union series the St. Louis-Cincinnsti game was postponed owing to the wretched condition of the ground. At Kansas City the Chicagos beat the Kansas City the Chicagos beat the Kansas City the Chicagos beat the Score of 10 to 8.

Henry Budgewater's Black Socks play the Louisville colored club Friday and Saturday next at Union Park.

Buck Ewing, catcher of the New York League Club, has had but five passed balls in his first twenty-five games.

Perry Werder, late of the local Unions, has signed as pitcher with the Deimonico Bass-ball Club of Atchison, Kansas.

The Great Centrals of the Wm. Barr Dry Goods Company defeated the Rosenbeim-Levis nine Sunday forencon by the score of 25 to 2.

ford, their new catcher. He will appear behind the bat when the Athletics reach St. Louis.

George Strief made four hits, with a total of seven, out of five times to the bat, in the Allegheny game last Monday. Strief is playing great ball.

New York's great pitcher, Welch, is a happy father. The honor was conferred by his wife a week ago, hence his brief absence from the nine.

The Quicksteps would like to receive challenges from nines under thirteen years of age. Address challenges to Dennis MoCabe, 2107 Mullanphy street.

The St. Louis Browns will probably remain over in Pittsburg and play to-day. They can do so and reach Washington to-morrow afternoon via Philadelphis.

The Brooklyn team has done some surprisingly good work in the field in several of their championship matches this season, besides handling the ash with excellent effect, and their best work has been done against the strongest clubs.

The Prickly Ash nine will tackle the Pinafores next Saturday at Sportsman's Park, in the third game for the local championship. The Pinafores are playing great hall and are likely to do up the Prickly Ash, who, by the way, are not doing very badly themselves.

The Arbitration Committee has, by its secretary, John J. Rust of Chicago, served notice upon all National agreement clubs—seventy in all—that the following players have made themselves forever in eligible to play in or against any national agreement clubs or club which desires recognition from national agreement clubs—served by the Athletics.

Fred Dunlap and Hugh Daly, reserved by the Cowsvilles.

Emil Gross, reserved by the Philadelphias.

These players are as dead to the national agreement clubs now as if they did not exist. They can never be reinstated. They have no hope except in the Union Association. The notice is official an Albert Hamm is matched to row George Hosmer at Point of Pines next Saturday afternoon. He says he has trained down to 170 pounds in rowing costume, is feeling perfectly well and thitixs he will be able to give Hosmer all the rowing he desires on the 15th; yet he has an idea that the time made by the winner will not be suything like as fast as that recently predicted in a contemporary. He will row at Sterling, if the race there is not postponed more than a day, and intends starting in all the regattas of importance held this season.

Mr. J. A. St. John of St. Louis, who is backing Jacob Gaudaur in his matches, complains because Eastern scullers do not seem disposed to accept any offer for a bona fide boat race and put up money on the result, and he says "the custom of rowing for yellow the same the says in the custom of rowing for a bona fide boat race and put up money on the result, and he says "the custom of rowing for Take money seems to be killing honest contests." The carsumen themselves acknowledged all that Mr. St. John asserts, but as professionals row races as a matter of business, and not for pleasure, they never refuse a good thing, and hence accept gate money whenever offered.—Boston Heraid.

Arrangements are being made in Washington for an international single soull race, to be open to all carsmen in the world, for $0,000 in cash prizes and the world's championship. The race will be five miles, one turn, over the Hanlan-Courtney course, and will take place in September next. The pure of $0,000 will be put up by Richard E. Fox of New York, who will manage the race. The following have agreed to enter: Hanlan Ross, Teether, Gaudaur, Courtney, Coniey, Plaisted, Lee, Ten Kyck, Hosmer, Hanna and Hubear, and Largan of Eagland, and Peterson of San Francisco.

Quite a Rumpus.

The Globe Clothing House, 714 and 716 Franklin avenue, with their low prices started quite a rumpus among our clothing houses. They all tried to beat each other, but the prices at the Globe were so low that the balance, with their large expenses, could not bring down their prices low enough. The Globe yesterday was all day long crowded with anxious buyers eager to secure the great bargains offered this week during the sale of the great Boston bankprompt attention.

ST. LOUIS.

Every suit of Gents' or Yonths' Clothes sold by "Famous" during our GREAT SALE has proved itself a valuable advertisement, as the fortunate purchaser who called on us has either bought or sent some friend to share his good luck who called on us has either bought or sent some friend to share his good luck and "do likewise." It is safe to say that no American clothing house has ever offered the public First-Class Suits at SUCH PRICES, and when we say "Such Prices" we mean LOW PRICES, entirely without precedent in this or any other city. In fact, our "Big Corner" on Clothing has depressed values to such an extent all over St. Louis that consumers may thank "Famous" for any reasonable bargains they chance to secure outside of "Headquarters." Any man, no matter what his avocation, position or means, should investigate the line of suits offered by "Famous" before investing a dollar in this direction. We append a table showing what you save by coming to us:
Our $5.00 Suits are $10.00 elsewhere Our $5.50 Suits are $20.8$25 elsewhere Our $12.50 Suits are $20.8$25 elsewhere Since the proof of the pudding lays in the eating thereof, come and see who is ton top" in LOW PRICES, and where Clothing Headquarters is really located. You will soon say,

ON THE PREMISES.

Saturday, June 14, 1884.

COMMENCING AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.

This property is know as the Christian Brothers Addition to Cabanne Place, and is recognized as the most beautiful Suburban tract in this or any other city. It is in the center of lovely mansions, only thirty minutes' ride from the court-house and approached by steam and street railroad cars. For health and comfort this beautiful western suburb is not surpassed; it is convenient to churches and schools; the well-known seat of learning, the famous College of the Christian Brothers, is only a few blocks distant, and one of the stations of the Narrow-Gauge Railroad is located on the ground; also Rose Hill station on the Wabash, and in full view of Forest Park.

The Lots are 50x160, and fronting on Maple and Justin avenues, 60 feet wide.

Sign Boards will indicate the locality; each lot will be staked off, and the intention is to dispose of every lot on the day of sale.

The terms are one-third cash, the balance in one and two years, with 6 per cent interest on the deferred payments. Lithographic plats can be had at the office of the Agents. Twenty dollars to be paid on bidding off each lot. The title is perfect and will be warranted.

New York, N. Y., June 11.—A meeting of the addes' American Board of Missions was held yeserday morning in the Madison Avenue Congregational Church and Mms. Hyacinthe Loyson, wife of Ladies' American Board of Missions was held yesterday morning in the Madison Avenue Congregational Church and Mms. Hyacinthe Loyson, wife of the eminent French orator, Pere Hyacinthe, a charming lady apparently about thirty-five years old delivered on address. She is stout of frame and bears a pleasant and highly intellectual countenance. She was attired in a plain black gown and a cape nearly reaching to her feet, her general appearance being that of a nun, On her breast she wore a cross of oid aliver and on her right hand was a gold ring with a plain gold cross on top, taking the place of a stone. She was attended by her little boy, Paul, a bright lad about ten years old. In the course of her remarks she said: "I am to speak to you about the church and the Bible in France. For the first time in the history of the Latin church the Bible is now placed in the hands of the people. A great mistake prevails among Protestants in the belief that the Church of Rome is opposed to the reading of the Bible. It is not. It is opposed to individual interpretation—that is that we shall take it in our hands and indulge in deducting personal conclusions from it without paying heed to those authorities who have made its interpretation a lifelong study. It is a great evil that our Protestantiam has fallen into, making easy and chivenient translations and interpretations of the Bible. "Speaking of the relations of the Gallican Church of Rome, Mme. Hyacinthe said: "Leo XIII., the present pontiff, is a liberal and a very good man. We believe that he has still agreat many things to learn, but if he had his way and could speak his mind the condition of things in the Latin Church would be changed before many days. We are fighting against the common system and the duplicity of Rome. We call ourselves old Catholica We do not believe in sects. BURNED UP IN A BARN. The Result of a Chicago Incendiary's Crime

CHICAGO, June 11.-Early this morning an unknown person entered a barn on the corner of Cen-ter avenue and Taylor street with a lighted candle, and ignited the hay. Fred Ardell, an expressman, 50 years old, and a young man, name useeping in the barn, were burned to death.

John Galligan's Nine. Maj. John Galligan, aged 9 years, who resides near the corner of Seventh and Walnut streets, dropped into the Post-Dispatch office to get a notice of the game of base-ball which his club is going to play with the Ninth street fellows, on Tenth and Pine, next Saturday. The Major had no money Pine, next Saturday. The Major had no money with him to pay for the notice, but claimed to have a dime at home, which he offered to bring down with him next time he came. He stated that he was pitcher for his gang, and produced a base-ball and displayed the curves he could make, in a manner suggestive of McGinnias' best work. He stated that the rest of the club were charlie Fresh Cook, shortstop; Kirby, first base; Miller, second base; Trolladale, third base; Smith, Sepley and Lago, field. He admitted that none of the fellows had any good-looking sisters, except Cook, and promised solemnly to bring her along the next time he wanted a notice. He promises to do up the Ninth street gang without turning a hair.

mother. She has a well-matched groom and coachman, a neat maid, a good cook, and is a gracious and jolly hostess. Last week she gave a luncheon to eight ladies, who, though not belonging to the very best circles of New York society, were in their way representative society women. Freddy Gebhardt is never seen at her house, and the Lily's name seldom appears in the papers, except in a legitimate way through criticisms of her performances. Last week she occupied a good share of the public prints, however, in two cases where she was sued for damages—in one instance by John A. Stevens, and another by an actor in her troupe, Mrs. Langtry sat down opposte the jury in court and testified before them with appealing and affectionate eyes. In both instances the jury straightened itself, twirled its mustache, felt its scarf, smiled fascinatingly in return and decided in favor of the Lily with enthusiasm and affection. This goes farther than anything else to refute the claim that Mrs. Langtry is not a beautiful woman.

Assembly Adjourned Till Fall.

The Council last night passed the St. Louis Transfer Railway bill, notwithstanding Mr. Cummings' protest against granting any franchise to Mr. Lackland, the gas director. The company pays nothing for the first ten years, and grades up to $1,000 per year on the second ten. Mess's. Rowse and Parker endeavored vainly to pass the bill over to next session, as it may prevent the building of the belt road. The House resolution to defer adjournment till Friday evening was defeated, as was the resolution to sell Forcest Park privileges to the highest bidder. The Council then adjourned sine die.

The House reconsidered the resolution allowing the Park Commissioner to rent the Forest Park cottages, etc., subject to the Mayor's approval, and adopted a resolution selling the lease thereof to the highest bidder. A report of the Sewar Commissioner as to the condition of work on Potomac street, near Broadway, was ordered back to him for amplification. The St. Louis Transfer Railway bill was signed by the Speaker, and the House adjourned sine die, after midnight.

The Breach in the Council Widening-More

Small-Pox-Other News. The split in the City Council is growing exceedingly interesting, and charges and counter charges of corruption are freely made by members of both factions. Two of the members of the faction opposed to the Mayor succeeded in getting on the last Grand Jury, and made a vigorous effort to have the Mayor and four members of the Council, with several of the police and other city officials, indicted. The effort was only partially successful, the Mayor and Council escaping, but Deputy City Clerk J. A. Canty, Officers Garry, Stack, Wm. McManus, Jerry Coffey, Wm. Kenny and James Lynch being indicted. Mr. Canty is accused of withholding a treasury warrant from a party in whose favor it was allowed. The officers were indicted for chasing Councilman Niemes through the common fields of Cahokis rnd compelling his attendance at a Council meeting. The officers were simply acting under instructions of the Mayor, and their indictments widen the breach in the 1City Council and the most startling results are expected. The next Grand-Jury will be furnished with the details of an immense amount of crooked work accomplished lately by some of the most prominent citizens and office-holders, and several sensational indictments will no doubt be returned. The indicted parties furnished bond this worning to appear in the Circuit Court when wanted.

WHO DRANK IT?

An Extraordinary Quantity of Wine Paid for by the Missouri Delegation. A number of the Missouri delegates to the National Convention have compared notes and made a very remarkable discovery. Without a single ex-ception, so far as the delegation has been polled, it has been found that on going to the cashier's desk at the Palmer House to settle up the Missourians at the Palmer House to settle up the Missourians found themselves charged with a bottle of wine each. It availed them nothing to protest that they had not ordered a bottle of wine, or to argue that they drank nothing but beer and whisky. The cashier only knew that a bottle had gone to the room in every case, and he must have his pay. Having a long line of men pressing behind them eager to pay their bills and catch their trains, the delegates as a rule, paid the bill rather than make delay and commotion, but they came away feeling very hot, and they do not understand it yet. Whether they have been victimized by some fellow who rung for wine from their respective rooms and accumulated a couple of cases in this manner, or whether they have paid for wine that never went up at all, or whether one bottle of wine onsumed by some member of the delegation has been charged against them all, in order to make sure of hitting the right man, they are unable to determine. They want their Democratic friends, however, to be on their guard against one of the many pitfalls that are to be discovered in a metropolis by the unwary pigrim.

The drive and banquet at the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon tendered the Labor Commissioners by the Mechanics' Exchange was enjoyed by the visitors to the fullest extent. The spread at the Fair by the Mechanics Exchange was enjoyed by the visitors to the fullest extent. The spread at the Fair Grounds was an elegant one, and a few hours were spent pleasantly eating and speaking, a number of toasts having been responded to by Messrs. Wright, Loughlin, Newman, Bishop, Lord, Dewes, Weeks, Mulcahy and Frof. Sanborn. In the evening Prof. Sanborn addressed the convention on the subject of the agricultural industries of the United States, in which some interesting statistics were given.

This morning the convention met in brief session, and after the transaction of important business went in a body, on invitation of Prof. Woodward, to Washington University, where they examined the practical operation of the manual training school, the closing exhibition taking place to-day. The commissioners were highly entertained by the examination of the school, and were confirmed in their opinion of the utility and value of the school.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon they met at the Mechanics Exchange, with the members of the Exchange and their families, and preceded by a band marched to the foot of Locust street, where the "Charles Morgan" was awaiting them. The party boarded the steamer for an excursion down the river.

Cofficer Fuqua was walking along Market street near Ninth yesterday evening when he was attracted by screams and yells. In a room in the rear of the street building he found three old sots and an old woman in the height of a regular "hard go." They had locked the door and were femotying a free fight when the hoodlum wagon was called and they were all carfed to the Four Courts. A negro testified in the Police Court this morning that the fight had been in progress for three days without any intermission as far as his knowledge extended. Judge Cady fined them each $5, on which they will be sent to the Work House.
